Definitions

Before you get started please familiarise yourself with the terms used in degree planning below.

Course handbook • Outlines the requirements and subjects you must successfully complete and rules you need to follow to qualify for the award of your degree.
Subject • A self-contained unit of study identified by a unique code (e.g. LLB1100)
Pre-requisites *(this can be checked in the Subject Database) • A subject or a minimum amount of credit points which must be successfully completed before another subject may be attempted (e.g. LLB1160 or 36 credit points at any level)
100, 200, 300 level subjects • Refer to first, second and third year subjects. You will only enrol into first year subjects starting with a '1' in the subject code (e.g. LLB1115) in your first year of study.
What are credit points? • The value attached to each subject (usually 6 credit points). The successful completion of subjects account for credit points completed as the examples below show: 6 credit points per subject x 4 subjects per session = 24 credit points 24 credit points per session x 2 sessions per year = 48 credit points A single Bachelor's degree usually requires a total of 144 credit points 48 credit points per year x 3 years of full-time study = 144 credit points
What is a major? • A designated study area with a list of prescribed subjects (e.g. International Relations) with a minimum value of 48 credit points (8 subjects).
What is a minor? • A designated study area with a list of prescribed subjects (e.g. Global Sustainable Development) with a minimum value of 24 credit points (4 subjects).
What are elective subjects? • Subjects open for enrolment by any student. Elective subjects often make up the total credit points required by for your degree.
Full-time or part-time study? • This is determined by how many subjects (credit points) you are enrolled in each session. • Full-time students enrol in 4 subjects per session (24 credit points per session or 48 credit points per year). 3 subjects is also considered full time • Part-time students enrol in less than 3 subjects per session (less than 18 credit points per session)
