Peter Robb was born in Toorak in 1946 and grew up in Australia and New Zealand. He has lived in Europe and South America for much of his adult life. He is the author of the acclaimed bestseller Midnight in Sicily (1996), which won the 1997 Victorian Premier's Literary Prize for non-fiction, and was named a New York Times Book Review Notable Book of the Year. Robb’s biography of Caravaggio, M (1998), won the 1999 National Biography Award (UK).

A Death in Brazil (2003), won The 2004 Age Non-Fiction Book of the Year and the 2004 Victorian Premier’s Award for Non-fiction. Street Fight in Naples, (2011), is a vivid memoir which brings Naples and its extraordinary history to life.

Robb’s latest book Lives, (2012) is a fascinating exploration of human life in all its variety, glamour and idiosyncrasy. He is currently the CAL Non-Fiction Writer-in-Residence at the Centre for New Writing at UTS and he lives in Sydney.
