Graduation Ceremony

November 2026

Acknowledgement of Country

We acknowledge that Country for Aboriginal peoples is an interconnected set of ancient and sophisticated relationships.

The University of Wollongong spreads across many interrelated Aboriginal Countries that are bound by this sacred landscape, and intimate relationship with that landscape since creation.

From Sydney to the Southern Highlands, to the South Coast. From fresh water to bitter water to salt. From city to urban to rural.

The University of Wollongong acknowledges the custodianship of the Aboriginal peoples of this place and space that has kept alive the relationships between all living things.

The University acknowledges the devastating impact of colonisation on our campuses footprint and commit ourselves to truth-telling, healing and education.

Artist information and artwork story

Aunty Lorraine Brown and Aunty Narelle Thomas are sisters and artists from the Coomaditchie Co-operative and are some of the premier Aboriginal artists in the Illawarra region. Lorraine does the fine work, while Narelle fills in the details, working harmoniously to complete their projects. Their art captures their cultural heritage's spirit, colours and stories as coastal people.

The artwork, titled Cultural Healing, represents a time when there was great health in their community and depicts local native foods and medicines, including bush tucker, ocean tucker, medicinal plants and flowers that find deeper relevance in local Dreaming Stories.

Using bold colours to represent their coastal upbringing, Cultural Healing centres around the idea of health and healing, featuring an abundance of pipis, muttonfish and conch, along with native flora, including sarsaparilla, lemon-scented tea tree and midgen berries. The footprints represent the journey, history and ongoing process of walking. All of these elements provided them with knowledge, strength and a reason why.

Chancellor's message

Congratulations to our graduates.

Graduation is one of the most significant milestones in a person's life and today I am delighted to celebrate every one of you as our newest University of Wollongong graduates.

This moment marks the culmination of years of dedication, persistence and countless hours of effort. It also marks the beginning of your next chapter, where you step forward with confidence and purpose, built through your experiences and hard work.

We see in you the very best that education can empower. You have grown in capability and character. You have adapted, overcome challenges and demonstrated resilience in times of rapid change. These achievements are a credit to your commitment and to the support of those who have walked alongside you.

As graduates you now become custodians of the University's legacy and values. You join a global alumni community who contribute to their professions and their communities with integrity and impact.

I encourage you to stay curious, remain courageous and continue to seek opportunities to make a meaningful difference. You will always be a part of the UOW family, wherever your path leads.

Congratulations to all of you on your immense achievement. Thank you for being part of our story and for inspiring us all to keep reaching for excellence.

Vice-Chancellor and President's message

Congratulations to all our graduates on reaching this defining moment in your lives today.

I am delighted to be here to celebrate your achievement through your determination and perseverance, and today we also honour all those people who have supported you along the way.

As you prepare for what comes next, take a moment to reflect on the friendships you have made, the skills you have gained and the experiences that have shaped you. These moments of growth, challenge and discovery will continue to guide you long after today.

You have grown both personally and professionally during your time at UOW. You have developed new capabilities and found strength in your own resilience.

Today, you stand as the newest members of our global alumni community of some 200,000 around the globe. You are our greatest ambassadors, embodying the leadership, determination and excellence that define the University of Wollongong.

The world is calling for leaders, innovators and changemakers, and I have every confidence you will answer that call.

I look forward to seeing the extraordinary contributions that you will make as UOW graduates. I wish you every success as you step forward with confidence.

Congratulations once again, and we are very proud of you.

Vice-Chancellor and President

About the University

Formally established in 1975, the University of Wollongong (UOW) is among the best modern universities in the world.

We acknowledge that our Wollongong, regional and metropolitan campuses are located on Aboriginal land. UOW's original site and Wollongong campus is located at the foot of Mount Keira (Geera). The University sits on an ancient teaching site which is spiritually significant to local Aboriginal people.

The three major totems or spiritual guides of this region are the sea eagle of the air, the humpback whale of the sea and the red-bellied black snake of the land.

Originally established to provide tertiary education for engineers and metallurgists in the burgeoning steel industry, the University has since developed into an internationally recognised teaching and research institution.

Placed in the top 200 universities worldwide (QS World University Rankings 2027), UOW conducts world-class research in fields such as innovative materials; engineering and manufacturing; health and medical research; society, policy and culture; environmental sustainability; and information and mathematical sciences. Many of UOW's leading research institutes, together with a range of technology companies, are located at the University's Innovation Campus.

In teaching and learning, the University combines traditional academic values with innovative teaching and advanced technology. The Wollongong campus, with its learning and support systems and highly qualified staff, offers a personalised study environment for all students, both domestic and international.

UOW has nine campuses throughout NSW, providing exceptional learning experiences that are specifically designed to meet the needs of our students.

Beyond Australia, UOW has campuses in Dubai (UOW Dubai), India (UOW India), Malaysia (UOW Malaysia) and Hong Kong (UOW College Hong Kong), along with partnerships in China (Central China Normal University) and Singapore (Singapore Institute of Management) that deliver UOW programs.

Thank you

Congratulations, graduates of the University of Wollongong. As we gather in celebration with family, friends and supporters, we reflect on the infinite moments that have led to this day.

Graduation is a culmination of hard work, sleepless nights and unyielding determination in the pursuit of knowledge. This day not only marks the end, but also a new beginning as you step across the threshold of academia into the world beyond.

Thank you for being here with us, and we can't wait to witness the remarkable contributions you will make to the world.

祝贺沃隆港大学的毕业生们！
在这个值得庆祝的时刻，我们与家人、朋友和一路支持我们的伙伴欢聚一堂，共同回顾那些引领我们走到今天的无数珍贵瞬间。

Xin chúc mừng các sinh viên tốt nghiệp của Đại học Wollongong (UOW). Trong khoảnh khắc này, tụ họp cùng gia đình, bạn bè và những người ủng hộ, chúng ta cùng nhau nhìn lại những chặng đường đã qua, những kỷ niệm đáng nhớ và ăn mừng thành tựu của ngày hôm nay. Lễ tốt nghiệp hôm nay chính là kết quả của sự chăm chỉ, nỗ lực không ngừng, những đêm thức trắng và sự quyết tâm không biết mệt mỏi trong việc theo đuổi tri thức và nâng cao kiến thức. Vì vậy, ngày hôm nay không chỉ đánh dấu sự kết thúc của một hành trình đã qua mà còn là một khởi đầu mới khi các bạn bước ra khỏi cánh cửa đại học và bước vào thế giới bên ngoài. Chúng tôi xin gửi lời cảm ơn chân thành đến các bạn vì đã đồng hành cùng chúng tôi, và chúng tôi rất mong chờ được chứng kiến những đóng góp đáng kể mà các bạn sẽ mang đến cho thế giới.

مبارک ہو، وولونگونگ یونیورسٹی کے گریجویٹس۔ جب ہم خاندان، دوستوں اور حامیوں کے ساتھ جشن منانے یہاں جمع ہوتے ہیں، تو ہم ان لامحدود لمحات پر غور کرتے ہیں جن کی وجہ سے یہ دن آیا ہے۔ گریجویشن محنت، بے خواب راتوں، اور علم کے حصول میں غیر متزلزل عزم کی انتہا ہے۔ یہ دن نہ صرف اختتام کی نشاندہی کرتا ہے بلکہ ایک نئی شروعات بھی کرتا ہے جب آپ اکیڈمی کی دہلیز کو عبور کرتے ہوئے دنیا میں قدم رکھتے ہیں۔ ہمارے ساتھ یہاں آنے کے لیے آپ کا شکریہ، اور ہم آپ کی دنیا کے لیے جو قابل ذکر تعاون کریں گے اس کا مشاہدہ کرنے کا انتظار نہیں کر سکتے۔

The ceremony of graduation

Since its foundation, the University of Wollongong has graduated more than 200,000 students from 179 countries.

Creating inclusive traditions

Our Indigenous Strategy Unit has led significant changes to graduation, weaving Aboriginal ceremony, artwork and imagery into all elements of our graduation ceremony. The blending of ancient practices and medieval traditions to create a new suite of UOW graduation traditions brings to life the vision for an inclusive, reconciled and united Australia where Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people are positioned as the knowledge holders of Country.

Aboriginal ceremony underpins our graduation practices. The significance of the smoking ceremony has been shared in the poem below by one of our Indigenous community members.

Academic dress

Academic regalia is a reminder of the long history of Universities. Three main elements of Academic Regalia include the gown, the hood and the headdress.

Academic dress for the University of Wollongong consists of a royal blue gown, a hood or stole and a blue tasselled trencher (hat). Hoods are lined with different coloured silk trims to denote the type of award.

Doctoral degree graduates wear a blue gown with cherry red silk facing and button sleeves and a black bonnet with coloured tassels.

The University Mace

In the medieval tradition, the mace is a symbol of the University and the Chancellor's authority as its head, and is carried by the mace bearer who accompanies the Chancellor on formal occasions such as graduation ceremonies. It is carried on the shoulder of the mace bearer.

The University of Wollongong mace is constructed from stainless steel and the head is a stylised form of the Illawarra Flame Tree flower from the Arms of the University. The exterior surface of the mace has a rough finish, symbolising the heavy industrial area of Wollongong, whilst the stamen of the 'flower' is smooth and highly polished to indicate the University's position as a centre for the city and the region.

The mace also contains three timber inserts from one of the three original Moreton Bay fig trees, which were a feature of the Wollongong campus and were estimated to be 500 years old. The mace was both designed and made by Gino Sanguineti (dec'd), a local artist, and was presented to the University in 1988.

The University Crest

The crest incorporates key elements of the official Arms of the University, including the wave of the sea, the flowers of the Illawarra Flame Tree and the open book symbolising knowledge and learning.

Fire a vital tool of human survival,
Fire today is our cultural revival.
Smoke is medicinal & smoke is healing,
Smoke is cleansing & smoke is clearing.

Mind. Body. Spirit.
Our song.
Our words.
Our sounds.
Our connection.
Our recipe from Country.
We share.

Fire & smoke to hold you in this Place.
Fire & smoke to ground you in this space.

Honorary Award recipients

Honorary Awards recognise and celebrate the outstanding achievement and exceptional service of remarkable individuals. Their significant contribution, whether it be to their nation, their community or in their field, provides inspiration to graduating students.

The Honorary Degree tradition dates back to the Middle Ages and the University of Wollongong has continued this tradition, honouring an extraordinary cross-section of eminent people since it became an autonomous University in 1975. Royalty, governors, prime ministers, judges, musicians, artists, captains of industry, scientists, social activists and administrators from Australia and overseas have all been recognised by the University.

A full list of the University's Honorary Award recipients can be found online at:
uow.edu.au/alumni/honorary-alumni

Carlene Anne York APM EMPA

Carlene Anne York APM EMPA is a distinguished public leader whose career across policing and emergency management has strengthened public safety, organisational capability and community resilience.

During more than 35 years in public service, Ms York held executive roles with the New South Wales Police Force and led reforms in forensic services, workforce wellbeing and organisational culture. Her operational leadership included commanding the multi-agency operation that resulted in the conclusion of a seven-year manhunt.

As Commissioner of the New South Wales State Emergency Service from 2019 to 2024, Ms York guided the organisation through floods, strengthened training, governance and operational technology, and championed the wellbeing of volunteers and staff.

A University of Wollongong graduate, Ms York completed a Graduate Certificate in Management in 1996. She continues her service as an AFAC board member and Chair of Girls on Fire, supporting collaboration, inclusion and pathways into emergency-service careers for young women and under-represented groups.

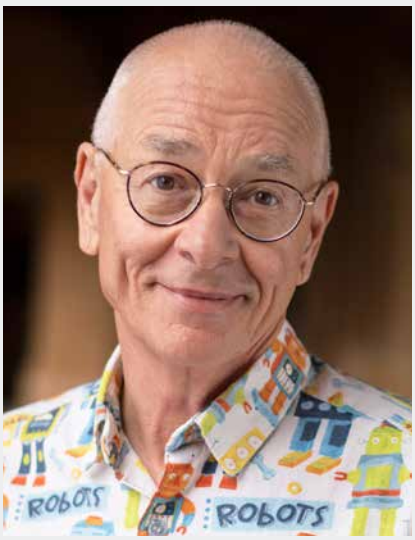

Carlene York APM EMPA will be presented with the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws of the University of Wollongong during the Faculty of Arts, Society and Business graduation ceremony on Tuesday 3 November 2026 at 9.30 am.

Dr Karl Kruszelnicki AM

Dr Karl Kruszelnicki AM is one of Australia's best-known science communicators, whose career has brought science into everyday life through radio, television, books and digital media.

Trained in physics, mathematics, biomedical engineering and medicine and surgery, Dr Karl has worked as a physicist, researcher, filmmaker and medical doctor. He began broadcasting science on 2JJJ in 1981 and has maintained an association with ABC radio through Great Moments in Science and the Triple J science talkback program. His television career has included presenting the ABC's Quantum and reporting for The Midday Show and Good Morning Australia.

A prolific author, public speaker and podcaster, Dr Karl has introduced generations of Australians to science with clarity, curiosity and humour. His achievements include appointment as a Member of the Order of Australia, the UNESCO Kalinga Prize for the Popularisation of Science, recognition as a National Living Treasure, and the naming of asteroid 18412 Kruszelnicki in his honour.

Dr Karl Kruszelnicki AM will be presented with the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Science of the University of Wollongong during the Faculty of Science, Medicine and Health graduation ceremony on Wednesday 4 November 2026 at 3.30 pm.

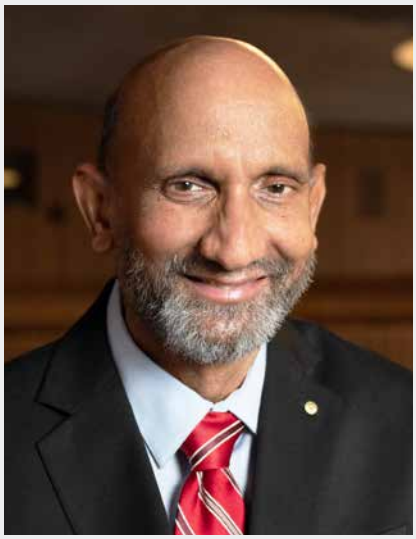

Professor Chennupati Jagadish AC FRS FREng FAA FTSE

Professor Chennupati Jagadish AC is an internationally distinguished physicist and engineer whose work in semiconductor optoelectronics and nanotechnology has advanced communications, energy, health technologies and materials science.

Emeritus Distinguished Professor of Physics and Electronic Materials Engineering at the Australian National University, Professor Jagadish has achieved world-first advances in quantum well, quantum dot and nanowire semiconductor structures. His research has contributed to lasers, infrared detectors, flexible solar cells, health-monitoring sensors and technologies for neuronal networks and dementia research.

Professor Jagadish has published more than 800 peer-reviewed papers, holds eight United States patents, and has guided more than 70 doctoral students and 50 postdoctoral researchers. He served as President of the Australian Academy of Science from 2022 to 2026.

Professor Jagadish has supported University of Wollongong researchers and students for three decades through collaboration and advisory service. His major achievements include a Companion of the Order of Australia and the Pravasi Bharatiya Samman Award.

Professor Chennupati Jagadish AC will be presented with the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Engineeering of the University of Wollongong during the Faculty of Engineering and Information Sciences graduation ceremony on Thursday 5 November 2026 at 9.30 am.

Emeritus Professors

The title of Emeritus Professor recognises the distinguished service, scholarly achievement and enduring contribution of former professors of the University. It is reserved for individuals whose academic leadership, scholarship and service have made an exceptional and lasting contribution to the University, their discipline and the wider community.

Professor Greg Rose

Professor Greg Rose is a scholar of international law whose teaching, research, leadership and service have enriched the University of Wollongong for almost 30 years. Joining UOW in 1998, he contributed to the School of Law and the Australian National Centre for Ocean Resources and Security and supervised 16 doctoral candidates to completion.

Professor Rose's research has focused on making international law effective in practice, particularly in environmental protection, marine resources and national security. He has undertaken expert work for the United Nations Environment Programme and held senior editorial roles with leading international law publications.

Before joining UOW, Professor Rose led the environmental law unit in the Legal Office of the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade. At UOW, his leadership roles included Chair and Deputy Chair of Academic Senate, Associate Dean of Law, and Law Discipline Leader. Professor Rose also served as Jewish staff and student chaplain for more than two decades.

Professor Greg Rose will be admitted as an Emeritus Professor of the University of Wollongong during the Faculty of Arts, Society and Business graduation ceremony on Tuesday 3 November 2026 at 3.30 pm.

Senior Professor Pauline McGuirk

Senior Professor Pauline McGuirk is an internationally recognised human geographer whose research explores how city governance responds to social, political, technological and environmental change. She joined the University of Wollongong as Senior Professor of Human Geography in 2016 and is now an Honorary Professor.

Senior Professor McGuirk's research has advanced understanding of the governance of cities, its effects on urban climate and energy transitions, and the influence of new technologies on how we manage cities. She has published more than 130 journal articles, books and book chapters, and secured 13 Australian Research Council grants.

From 2017 to 2025, Senior Professor McGuirk directed UOW's Australian Centre for Culture, Environment, Society and Space. She helped expand its international profile while fostering an inclusive and collegial research culture. A dedicated educator and mentor, she has supervised doctoral and Honours students, developed urban geography subjects and supported researchers at all career stages.

Senior Professor Pauline McGuirk will be admitted as an Emeritus Professor of the University of Wollongong during the Faculty of Arts, Society and Business graduation ceremony on Wednesday 4 November 2026 at 9.30 am.

Senior Professor Mark Wilson

Senior Professor Mark Wilson is a molecular bioscientist whose scholarship, teaching and leadership have enriched the University of Wollongong for over three decades. Since joining UOW in 1994, he has built research capability, supported generations of students and helped create an environment in which science can flourish.

Senior Professor Wilson established a research niche at UOW in extracellular proteostasis, with significant implications for conditions including Alzheimer's disease and motor neurone disease. He has authored more than 150 scientific papers, cited more than 12,000 times, and secured or contributed to more than $8.5 million in external research funding.

An educator and mentor, Senior Professor Wilson has supervised 54 Honours students, 17 doctoral candidates and three master's students. His leadership roles included Chair of the Faculty of Science Research Committee, Associate Dean Research and Deputy Director for Industry Engagement at Molecular Horizons.

Senior Professor Mark Wilson will be admitted as an Emeritus Professor of the University of Wollongong during the Faculty of Science, Medicine and Health graduation ceremony on Wednesday 4 November 2026 at 12.30 pm.

Senior Professor Anh Kiet Tieu

Senior Professor Anh Kiet Tieu is an internationally recognised engineer, researcher and academic leader whose contributions to materials science, advanced manufacturing and engineering education have had a lasting impact on the University of Wollongong and the global research community.

Joining UOW in 1982, Senior Professor Tieu built a distinguished career spanning more than four decades, culminating in his appointment as Senior Professor and, following his retirement in 2025, Honorary Professor. A pioneer in tribology and materials processing, he has authored more than 800 scholarly publications and attracted over 13,000 citations, earning recognition as one of the world's leading researchers in his field.

Senior Professor Tieu also made an enduring contribution to UOW through academic leadership and mentorship. As Head of Mechanical Engineering from 1997 and later inaugural Head of the School of Mechanical, Materials and Mechatronic Engineering from 2003 to 2008, he helped strengthen the University's research reputation and played a key role in establishing the Mechatronics Engineering degree. He has supervised 68 doctoral candidates and was elected a Fellow of the Australian Academy of Technological Sciences and Engineering.

Senior Professor Anh Kiet Tieu will be admitted as an Emeritus Professor of the University of Wollongong during the Faculty of Engineering and Information Sciences graduation ceremony on Thursday 5 November 2026 at 12.30 pm.

Guest speaker

Linda Goldspink-Lord

Linda Goldspink-Lord is Co-owner, Founder and Director of Poseidon Animal Health, a global animal health company grounded in scientific research, education and lived experience. She holds a Bachelor of Education and Master of Education from the University of Wollongong, where she was recognised on the Dean's Merit List, and previously worked as a university lecturer, educator and chief executive.

Under Linda's leadership, Poseidon has grown from an Australian start-up into an internationally recognised animal health company operating across six countries. In 2026, Poseidon was named IMB Bank Illawarra Business of the Year. Linda is also the author of the book 'Crawling Through the Darkness'.

Linda Goldspink-Lord will present the Occasional Address at the Faculty of Arts, Society and Business graduation ceremony on Tuesday 3 November 2026 at 12.30 pm.

Master of Research

Leon Koning

Doctor of Philosophy

School of Medical, Indigenous and Health Sciences

For their study into developing practical dietary strategies to help people manage and reverse type 2 diabetes.
Katie Marie Oetsch

School of Nursing

For their exploration into the experiences of caregivers who utilise respite care services for people with mental illness.
Zahra Hassan H Almoaber

For their study into Thai nurses' views of mental health recovery to guide future care, education and policy.
Rinlita Chatwiriyaphong

For their study into 'specialling' with hospitalised older people, to evidence care improvement opportunities.
Miriam Anne Coyle

Doctor of Philosophy with Examiners' Commendation for Outstanding Thesis

School of Nursing

For their study into successfully demonstrating the feasibility of a nurse-coordinated transitional care intervention for older adults living with frailty.
Kirsten Jean Sarah Parker

Doctor of Philosophy

School of Nursing

For their study into the use of mobile health applications by nurses to manage chronic conditions.
Wa'ed Yasin Shiyab

Doctor of Philosophy with Examiners' Commendation for Outstanding Thesis

School of Nursing

For their study into the qualitative study explored lived-experience educators teaching nursing students about suicide in practice settings.
Taylor Sarah Yousiph

Doctor of Philosophy

School of Psychology

For their study into the cognitive and psychological correlates of delusion-like beliefs in the general population.
Elle Pilar Coleman

For their study into validating methods to track progress and improve care in residential substance use treatment.
Emma Louise Hatton

Doctor of Philosophy with Examiners' Commendation for Outstanding Thesis

School of Science

For their study into photo-initiated denitrogenative reactions of benzannulated 1,2,3-triazoles.
Fostino Raphael Bentry Bokosi

Doctor of Philosophy

School of Science

For their study into the ecological impacts of ship anchors on marine environments using Wollongong as a case study.
Allison Patricia Broad

Doctor of Philosophy with Examiners' Commendation for Outstanding Thesis

School of Science

For their study into investigated the chemistry, toxicity, and regulatory-driven evolution of electronic cigarettes in the Australian market.
Caitlin Isabella Jenkins

Doctor of Philosophy

School of Science

For their exploration of the gas-phase chemical pathways that form soot and other particulates.
Patricia Dianne Kelly

For their study into the molecular mechanisms of DNA replication using single-molecule techniques.
Nicholas Kwasi Patrick Kusi-Appauh

For their study into the impacts of aromatic oxidation on global and regional scales.
Stephen MacFarlane

For their study into advancing magnetoelectric materials for wireless stimulation in next-generation Biomedical applications.
Sulokshana Marks

Doctor of Philosophy with Examiners' Commendation for Outstanding Thesis

School of Science

For their study into improving the output and success of amphibian conservation breeding programs
Michael McFadden

For their study into post-ionisation technologies for single-cell metabolite imaging via mass spectrometry.
Jayden Chance Mckinnon

Doctor of Philosophy

School of Science

For their study into the development of new light-activated molecules for advanced LED-cured coating systems.
Maria Menti-Platten

For their study into the development of ultrasound-activated hydrogel implants to electrically stimulate and regenerate damaged nerves.
Mohammad Mohammadi

For their study into the development of targeted protein degraders to treat cytoskeletal dysfunction in metastatic disease.
Angus Muller

For their study into the cascade reaction, photophysical applications, and biological activities.
Dyah Utami Cahyaning Rahayu

For their study into protein dynamics during DNA replication and supercoiling at the single-molecule level.
Elise Marie Wilkinson

Doctor of Philosophy with Examiners' Commendation for Outstanding Thesis

School of Science

For their study into efficient catalysts for electrochemical CO2 conversion into valuable fuels.

Yeqing Xu

Doctor of Philosophy (Clinical Psychology)

School of Psychology

For their study into factors that may explain why some individuals have obesity and food addiction.

Stephanie Sophie Roemer

For their study into how dropping out of organised sport relates to peoples' mental health.

Julia Kristin Siemsen

Doctor of Philosophy (Clinical Psychology) with Examiners' Commendation for Outstanding Thesis

School of Psychology

For their study into alcohol and other drug treatment for young people experiencing substance use disorders.

Master of Research and Bachelor of Research

Jonathan Beard

Doctor of Philosophy

School of Engineering

For their study into axial and flexural behavior of GFRP-reinforced HSC square columns laterally reinforced with a new system of CFRP-TTs.

Sardar Atta Ur Rehman Khan

School of Computing and Information Technology

For their study into contributions to key management in attribute-based encryption.

Luqi Huang

For their study into advancing resilient, responsible and trusted human-AI systems that enhance organisational performance and ensure regulatory compliance.

Geeta Mahala

For their examination into helping organisations design Internet of Things systems that better align technology with business value.

Mohamad Mjalled

School of Engineering

For their study into advancing Australian underground mining safety through integrated coal toughness and dynamic hazard management.

Itmam Abedin

For their study into alkali-activated pervious concrete for stormwater management.

Armin Azad Aliabadi

For their study into how environmental contaminants interact with advanced treatment processes and affect antibiotic removal.

Zaied Bin Khalid

For their study into membrane distillation for advanced wastewater treatment, understanding and overcoming membrane fouling.

Mai Phuong Do

For their study into the impact of renewable energy on electricity supply system power quality.

Sean Toby Elphick

For their study into optimizing drone assisted service provisioning in Internet of Things networks.

Athena Forghani

Doctor of Philosophy with Examiners' Commendation for Outstanding Thesis

School of Engineering

For their study into the design and control of solid-state transformer for renewable rich power grid.

Md Sanwar Hossain

For their study into advanced cathode materials for sodium-ion batteries.

Jiayang Li

Doctor of Philosophy

School of Engineering

For their study into improving solar-assisted building heating and cooling using storage and intelligent control.

Shengteng Li

For their study into using smart electricity meter data to better understand renewable-rich low voltage electricity networks.

Tharushi Kalinga Nayakasinghe-Mudiyanselage

Doctor of Philosophy with Examiners' Commendation for Outstanding Thesis

School of Engineering

For their examination into 3D modeling and generative AI for respirator selection and camouflage generation.

Tran Thanh Phong Nguyen

Doctor of Philosophy

School of Engineering

For their study into providing insights into the development of hail-proof steel roofing.

Qian Zheng

School of Mathematics and Physics

For their study into developing quantum materials for cleaner energy conversion and next-generation electronic technologies.

Abdullah Al-Mamun

Doctor of Philosophy with Examiners' Commendation for Outstanding Thesis

School of Mathematics and Physics

For their study into modelling of DNA damage and radiation detectors space radiation environment.

Jay Archer

For their study into nanoparticles that protect skin from sun damage and kill melanoma cells more effectively.

Marcela Laura Chaki Borras

Doctor of Philosophy

School of Mathematics and Physics

For their study into how investors should allocate their wealth in the stock market when liquidity risk is also present.

Dhruv Goel

Doctor of Philosophy with Examiners' Commendation for Outstanding Thesis

School of Mathematics and Physics

For their study into efficient statistical methods for complex spatial data with missing information.

Anjana Wijayawardhana Hemasiri-Nawarathna

Doctor of Philosophy

School of Mathematics and Physics

For their study into the free boundary problems and Fenchel-Willmore inequality.

Meng Ji

For their study into bridging microscopic dynamics to macroscopic properties in magnetic and thermoelectric materials.

Kyle Anthony Portwin

For their study into the electrolyte additives, and promote the sustainable development of Aqueous zinc battery.

Xinyi Wang

School of Engineering

For their study into the design and analysis of heat engines powered by different actuators.

Burhan Bin Asghar Abbasi

Doctor of Philosophy with Examiners' Commendation for Outstanding Thesis

School of Engineering

For their study into developing flexible, stretchable liquid metal composites for wearable electronics and soft robotics applications.

Qingtian Zhang

School of Mathematics and Physics

For their study into additive manufacturing in fabricating radiological tissue equivalent equipment for cancer radiotherapy.

John Paul Ortiz Bustillo

For their study into designing cathode materials for high energy density batteries.

Mingyue Wang

Faculty of Arts, Society and Business

Master of Education with Distinction

Transforming Futures Scholarship Fund

As we celebrate the achievements of those crossing the stage today, it is important to remember that many have faced extraordinary challenges on their path to graduation. While we can't predict or protect students from every obstacle or pressure, we can provide much-needed financial support to help deserving students overcome hardship and successfully complete their degrees.

uow.info/transformingfutures

Please join us in supporting University of Wollongong students in need through the Transforming Futures Scholarship Fund.

Transforming Futures Scholarships are awarded to students who can demonstrate financial need or social disadvantage for the duration of their studies. These scholarships are fully funded by the generosity of our donor community which shares a commitment to truly make a difference by providing opportunity and support to those who need it most.

Join us by making a gift today

Your journey doesn't end here

When you graduate from the University of Wollongong, you don't just earn a degree you join a global network of more than 200,000 alumni making an impact across industries and around the world.*

As part of the UOW alumni community, you'll have opportunities to connect, collaborate, and celebrate achievements with fellow graduates who are shaping a better future.

Stay connected with UOW, and we'll help you continue your journey of growth, inspiration, and innovation wherever life takes you.

*The global UOW alumni community includes graduates, those who have completed an exchange program with UOW and honorary alumni.
