

Introduction to Work Integrated & Career Development Learning at UOW

Panel discussion and QA Session

WATTLE EVENT

If you are new to Work Integrated & Career Development Learning, or perhaps just to UOW, come along and hear from some local experts on these topics. The panel will discuss their experiences of WIL and CDL. The aim of the discussion is to familiarise participants with how Work Integrated learning (WIL), Career Development Learning are framed at UOW and to get your questions answered so that you can join the vibrant and supportive WIL & CDL community.

Panel members

Dr Lisa Milne (SFHEA) has spent 20 years in Higher Education, as a lecturer, researcher, in leadership roles in Learning and Teaching and as an academic developer.

She has supported practice enhancements and capability building, through leading university level communities of practice, designing and evaluating L&T projects and developing programs, policy, and resources. She has consistently engaged in WIL since 2006. She served the ACEN Victoria Tasmania state chapter in 2016 and 2019 and is currently Deputy Chair, ACEN NSW-ACT chapter. At UOW she has taken on a role supporting the WILAC as the Project Coordinator (Work-integrated Learning and Career Development Learning).

Dr Erin Twyford is a lecturer in the Faculty of Business and Law. She teaches undergraduate and postgraduate accounting and financial planning students in the areas of tax and financial accounting. She has embedded WIL in all of her subjects and was awarded an educational strategies and development fund to support the project "Industry-led simulation for financial planners: Getting the T shaped student to talk the talk."

Dr Michelle J. Eady is an Associate Professor in Curriculum and Pedagogy in the School of Education at UOW. Michelle is the President Elect (2022 – 2024) of the International Society for the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (ISSOTL), Senior Fellow Higher Education Authority (SFHEA), a Higher Education Research and Development Society of Australasia (HERDSA) Fellow and Australian Collaborative Education Network (ACEN) Board Member as well as Vice President, Asia Pacific ISSOTL. Her research interests include SoTL, Distance Learning/ Synchronous Technology, Aboriginal Studies, Work Integrated Learning (WIL) and other current issues in Education.

Dr Bonnie Dean is the Head of Academic Development and Recognition, within Learning, Teaching & Curriculum (LTC). She has a background in marketing and creative arts and has spent time teaching in the Faculty of Business before completing a PhD in work-integrated learning. She is currently leading a project for an institutional approach to WIL Pedagogy at UOW. She is Chair of the ACEN NSW/ACT State Chapter and sits on the ACEN Board of Directors, as well as a guest editor of The International Journal of Work Integrated Learning.
