 - d. students undertaking non-award study
 - e. students enrolled at all domestic and international UOW campuses except UOW Dubai
 - f. Students enrolled at UOW Dubai will follow the procedures as set out in the UOWD Student Handbook and Calendar.

4 Policy Principles

1. The principles guiding this policy are:
 - a. students are responsible for making reasonable efforts to minimise the impacts of compassionate, compelling and/or extenuating circumstances on their academic performance
 - b. students are expected to liaise with their subject coordinator when they become aware of compassionate, compelling and/or extenuating circumstance which may affect their academic performance
 - c. it is not possible for academic consideration to compensate for every consequence of compassionate, compelling, or extenuating circumstance affecting a student's academic progress. However, academic consideration, where appropriate, may help to minimise the impact of such circumstances without compromising the learning outcomes of the subject. To pass subjects, students must demonstrate that they have achieved the learning outcomes specified in the Subject Outline, regardless of whether academic consideration has been granted; and
 - d. appropriate learning and other support should be offered to students identified as at risk of not achieving satisfactory academic performance.
2. Guidelines for using and applying this policy correctly are available for students online, and for academic and professional staff via the UOW intranet.

3. Underlying the requirements, definitions, and procedures of this policy are the principles of equity, consistency, transparency and natural justice.
4. Academic consideration is a process intended to help minimise the impact of compassionate, compelling or extenuating circumstances beyond a student's control which significantly impair a student's ability to complete an assessment task on or by the due date as stipulated in the Subject Outline or to progress academically in a subject relevant to their course of study. Academic consideration may be granted on the basis of compassionate, compelling and/or extenuating circumstances.
5. In the event of a high risk incident, an authorised UOW staff member may manage the academic consideration application process on behalf of a student or group of students.

5 Circumstances Where Students May be Eligible to Apply for Academic Consideration

1. Academic consideration will only be considered for Compassionate, Compelling, or extenuating circumstances which,

Students approved to undertake a deferred end-of-session exam will be advised of the details via SOLS at least three working days prior to the commencement of the supplementary exam period.
