LLB 397/ 3397 Legal Internship Program

LLB 397/ 3397 Student Information Guide

What is Legal Internship Program (LIP)

Clinical education programs for law students have been available for many years in some Australian School of Laws. The objective of such programs is to provide an understanding of the human, social and policy contexts of law and legal practice. At the University of Wollongong, this objective is met through the subject LLB 397/ 3397 Legal Internship in which you will complete 20 days of professional experience.

We believe that practical experience is a vital part of legal training. In fact, we are the only School of Law in Australia that requires all students to complete a legal workplace internship as part of their law degree and also ensures that all students are placed in such an internship if the student cannot source their own. At UOW, a legal internship is not simply 'work experience', it is an important learning tool that gives students an opportunity to observe and reflect on the law in action and apply legal knowledge to real life situations while, at the same time, discern career options and build professional networks.

LIP Sessions (Instances)

Three instances of this subject are offered each year (exact dates will be in the Subject outline for each instance):

- LIP 1 – runs during Autumn session time (student organised only)
- LIP 2 – runs from the end of Autumn session, over the Winter Recess and finish at the end of Spring Session
