Acknowledgement of Country

We Acknowledge that Country for Aboriginal peoples is an interconnected set of ancient and sophisticated relationships.

The University of Wollongong spreads across many interrelated Aboriginal Countries that are bound by this sacred landscape, and intimate relationship with that landscape since creation.

From Sydney to the Southern Highlands, to the South Coast.

From fresh water to bitter water to salt.

From City to Urban to Rural.

The University of Wollongong Acknowledges the Custodianship of the Aboriginal peoples of this place and space that has kept alive the relationships between all living things.

The University Acknowledges the devastating impact of colonisation on our campuses' footprint and commit ourselves to truth-telling, healing and education.

Message from the Executive Dean, Professor Colin B. Picker

There are many things which make a university great. They include the qualities and accomplishments of its staff – both academic and professional staff. It may also include the physical space, settings and buildings. But, fundamentally and over the decades and centuries, a university must look to the achievements of its students.

The Faculty of Business and Law at the University of Wollongong embraces this basic principle. As we develop and respond to the many challenges of society and our environment, we will always return to our teaching mission – focusing on the what our students do, both in and out of the classroom, on and off campus among our community and partners and ultimately on the qualities and magnitudes of their achievements.

Though, it must be reinforced that we are proud of all of our students. They all come to us with different contexts and interests and goals. Their achievements correspondingly vary. But all are of value to them now and in the future. Nonetheless, it is important to acknowledge the achievements of particular students who have distinguished themselves due to outstanding performance. These student awards are all about recognising the excellence of these high-achieving students, and we are delighted to put on this event tonight for that purpose.

But we couldn't do it alone. On behalf of my colleagues in the Faculty, I'd also like to thank the sponsors of all these awards. Without their commitment to the Faculty, we would not be able to acknowledge the achievements of these wonderful students. We are very appreciative of their support and look forward to working with them in the future.

I'd like to close by conveying my personal congratulations to all the award recipients. Each one of you should be proud of your achievements, and I wish you continued success in the future, inside the classroom and outside of it as well!
