The Future of Industry
Industries are being reshaped by the shift to a knowledge-based economy. Economic policy worldwide will shift to favour sustainable development in order to meet increasing demands for growth built on human development, environmental protection and natural resource preservation.

Technological innovation will be key to increasing productivity. Australia’s prosperity will continue to be closely linked to engaging in global markets.

The Future of Jobs
Automation and artificial intelligence will profoundly change existing business models and labour force demands. New models of work—the gig and sharing economies—are expected to create more flexible working arrangements and fundamentally shift our understanding of the workforce.

Skill instability will be the norm and workers will be expected to continuously re-skill and up-skill. Graduates will have to be adaptable and resilient to succeed in a future of work increasingly defined by portfolio careers.

The Future of Living
Healthcare will continually evolve, becoming more holistic and person-centred. Medical professionals working in interdisciplinary teams will deliver integrated and holistic patient-centred care. Wearable technologies will deliver a revolution in personalised wellbeing and healthcare.

The shift to the circular economy and the emergence of new technologies will help make smarter, more sustainable cities.

Our future, however, remains vulnerable to a range of challenges caused by rapid urbanisation, food security and climate change.

The Future of Education
Education will be a lifelong need. An increasingly diverse group of learners will prioritise return on their educational investment and demand flexibility, personalisation and applied knowledge throughout their lives and careers.

Higher education globally will become borderless as internationalisation of tertiary education continues. Non-traditional players may disrupt established practices and traditional universities will increasingly be expected to differentiate, collaborate and innovate on a global scale.

With all this change comes opportunity.

We are committed to being at the forefront of change.

Our network of regional, metropolitan and international campuses will provide the grounding and global outlook required to address issues of importance across all of our communities. Our trust-based partnership approach will continue to support the University develop and pursue initiatives and opportunities which deliver change that matters.

At the University of Wollongong, we will lead, boldly and confidently.

Our vision for the future is underpinned by four Strategic Enablers.

These enablers are critical to achieving our ambitions.

PEOPLE
Our students, academic and professional services staff drive our success and create our impact. As we move towards a purposeful future, our people recognise the imperatives for change and lead the way for our transformation.

Our workforce management strategies will attract and retain the best talent and continuously develop our people to create the re-imagined workforce of the future.

We will value and recognise innovation, entrepreneurship, resilience, and the initiative to develop meaningful partnerships. We will invest in our people to provide them with the best tools to develop and expand their leadership and skills.

Our people will confidently embrace technology to drive change. As an agile and responsive community, we will blur the distinctions between students and staff and unify our professional and academic structures.

We will enhance channels of communication to ensure that students and staff are informed and engaged, and that support to them is efficient and timely. Our staff will actively seek and participate in industry networks and global mobility opportunities.

CULTURE
Our culture will be characterised by excellence, collaboration, agility, nimbleness, and responsiveness to the market. Supported by flexible systems and processes we focus our efforts on creating positive change.

As we adapt quickly, we will remain grounded in our institutional values, and we will continue to champion inclusion, diversity, and gender equity to create a welcoming environment for everyone.

We will continually strengthen and adapt our governance structures to ensure we thrive while upholding the strongest principles of integrity, accountability and transparency.

INFRASTRUCTURE
Our globally networked learning and research experience will be enabled by state-of-the-art physical and digital infrastructure.

Our physical and virtual presence will create a deep sense of belonging to UOW and demonstrate contemporary practices in safety and accessibility. Our commitment to realising the vision of our campus masterplans will provide smart, environmentally sustainable and purposeful facilities that enhance workplace productivity and the university experience.

We will embrace user-centred design, automation and artificial intelligence, so our people are able to focus on meaningful and rewarding work. We will be at the forefront of advanced technologies, embedding them into our research and learning.

FINANCE
Our focus on best practice resource management and diversifying of revenue streams will support our ongoing financial viability.

We will inform and resource our student recruitment practices on the basis of market insights and evidence to optimise our enrolment and retention outcomes.

We will continue to embed effective planning and reporting practices, ensuring transparency and optimal allocation of resources. Our funding and financial models will evolve to match rapid changes in our research and education.

We will focus our investments and redirect resources from under-performing to promising programs. We will grow and diversify our research revenue by creating global funding partnerships and facilitating commercialisation.
Realising our Strategy

Our integrated Planning and Reporting Framework ensures all aspects of our organisation are aligned to our Strategy.

The Framework activates UOW’s strategic direction via a clearly articulated planning and accountability structure that integrates with and is applied to all levels of planning and reporting at UOW. A set of cascading performance indicators and annual reporting assures the University’s governing body that the University is making progress towards its strategic ambitions.

The Framework supports UOW’s strong governance and quality framework and commitment to the Plan-Act-Review-Improve cycle.
Measuring our performance

We will measure our progress against this Strategy through monitoring and reporting against 12 key performance indicators:
