(Good Universities Guide 2023)

Co-located with TAFE NSW Moss Vale campus, the $2.5m UOW Southern Highlands building, designed by Glenn Murcutt, was opened in 2007. Providing the Wingecarribee Shire with a fully-equipped university campus, UOW Southern Highlands enables students to complete a range of degrees, and access learning and personalised support without leaving the region.

More than 200 students have graduated from UOW Southern Highlands, with a further 700 completing part of their degree before completing their course in Wollongong or other locations.

SCHOLARSHIPS

A number of scholarships are available to support students studying at regional campuses. Visit the UOW Southern Highlands website for further information, or search directly on the UOW webpage:

Masters

After studying via distance education, Candice decided to study locally on campus, which proved to be the right decision for her career.

“The interactive and supportive learning environment at UOW Southern Highlands allowed me to take my education to the next level. The skills I developed enabled me to gain employment in my industry of choice: the not-for-profit social and community health sector.

“My current role at Quest for Life requires innovation, dynamism and collaboration – skills honed with the high level of personal support available at UOW Southern Highlands.”
