
MEDI932: Indigenous Research Methodologies

Subject Outline

6 credit points

Subject Information

Autumn, 2024, Wollongong
Distance

Distance/ Online Delivery This subject is delivered entirely online. It involves no on-campus or other in-person learning activities.

The subject is double badged: MEDI932, MEDI332

UOW may need to change teaching locations, teaching delivery and/or assessment delivery at short notice to ensure the safety and well-being of students and staff in response to the COVID-19 pandemic or other public health requirements.

The Faculty of Science, Medicine and Health

The Faculty of Science, Medicine and Health offers a range of undergraduate and postgraduate programs designed to meet the needs of a diverse student population. We carry out world-leading research which is strongly aligned with our teaching program.

As a student of our faculty, you will be actively engaged in learning with extensive clinical experiences, use of advanced educational technologies and opportunities for enriching work experience. More information about the Faculty of Science, Medicine and Health and our School is available on our web pages:

Expectations of Students

UOW values are intellectual openness, excellence and dedication, empowerment and academic freedom, mutual respect and diversity, recognition and performance. We will provide a safe, equitable and orderly environment for the University community, and expect each member of our community to behave responsibly and ethically (UOW Student Conduct Rules <https://documents.uow.edu.au/about/policy/learning/index.html>).

We expect that students demonstrate these values and professional behaviour, both face to face and online, making genuine efforts to complete their studies successfully, arriving on time to class, taking part constructively in class discussions and activities, demonstrating appropriate professional and ethical conduct in all communication with UOW staff and community members, and submitting assignments on time (or completing a request for Academic Consideration in advance if needed).

Communication and eLearning Etiquette

Guidelines on the use of email to contact teaching staff, mobile phone use in class and information on the university guide to eLearning 'Netiquette' can be found at <https://www.uow.edu.au/student/learningcoop/software/email Etiquette/index.html>

Guiding Communication Principles for Students

Moodle Announcements will be the primary platform for communication of general information to students

- Students should ensure they regularly check the main announcements forum at the top of each subject's Moodle site. Information distributed via a Moodle Announcement MAY not be duplicated on any other forum on the Moodle site.
- Moodle Discussion forums pertinent to specific assignments will be used but will not replace or be used for overarching subject announcements.
 - Assignment discussion forums for specific assignments will be clearly labelled in the forum description to identify the purpose of the forum (e.g. 'Please ask any questions you have about Assessment Task 1 in this discussion forum') - students should check and ask any assignment questions on these forums and not through email.
 - The Moodle assignment discussion forums should always be used in the first instance when inquiring about assessment tasks.
- It is the student's responsibility to check all subject Moodle sites regularly for information and notifications.

SOLS messages will be used for all central communication relating to the following:

- Administrative matters relating to student enrolment
- Critical information relating to course or subject, e.g. Changes to assignments, policy updates, class cancellations or changes
- Timetable information
- Security and emergency information
- Students are encouraged to check SOLS messages daily as these messages are often of high priority

SOLS and Moodle announcements can NOT be responded to.

Email

- Communication to UOW staff by students should only be via a UOW email account
- In relation to assessment questions, Moodle assignment forums should be used rather than email.

Remember to use the same principles when communicating online as you would face-to-face. Be clear and respectful and communicate with the same consideration you would expect from others.

Learning Outcomes

Subject Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this subject, students will be able to:

1. Compare and contrast the key differences between western and Indigenous research methodologies
2. Demonstrate the use of different research methods within an Indigenous research methodological framework.
3. Apply a strengths based approach to specific research topics
4. Define Indigenous data sovereignty and demonstrate ways in which Indigenous health and other data can support and enhance the collective well-being of Indigenous peoples.
5. Examine the issue of cultural and intellectual property rights and the links with Indigenous research
6. Apply Indigenous research ethical guidelines and protocols to research practice.

Subject Description

This subject provides an in-depth exploration of Indigenous research methodologies. Drawing on the expanding scholarship by Indigenous people globally, the subject will explore the underlying principles, philosophies, methods and ethical protocols for undertaking research that privileges Indigenous knowledges, voices and experiences. This subject will equip students with the tools and resources needed to embark on a research project informed by critical Indigenous perspectives. Indigenous research methodologies are underlined by values and practices that are consistent with the beliefs and values of Indigenous people and have clear and obvious benefits for Indigenous health and wellbeing.

Course Handbook

Information about subject pre-requisites, co-requisites and restrictions as well as course completion requirements and Course Learning Outcomes can be found in the Course Handbook

<https://www.uow.edu.au/handbook/index.html>.

Subject Details: Practical Activities, eLearning, Readings and Materials

Subject eLearning

The University uses the eLearning system Moodle to support all coursework subjects. The subject Moodle site can be accessed via your SOLS page.

Safety Guidelines

The rules below are general rules that are required when participating in labs or practical activities. Before commencing these activities you are to ensure that you understand specific procedures and policy related to safety.

- All first year students undertaking Chemistry (CHEM101/102/104/105) must complete the Moodle WHS Induction (see details below)
- Before commencing any activity you are to ensure that you understand specific procedures and policy related to the lab in which you work and safety in general.
- You may need to review a Risk Assessment and complete a Participant Acknowledgement form before commencing any experiments/practical work. These materials will be made available by the lab supervisor/Subject Coordinator.
- You must inform the Subject Coordinator of any medical conditions which may impact upon your ability to participate in these activities before commencing the practical.

- All Reasonable Adjustment cases (Access Plans) must be discussed with the Subject Coordinator prior to commencing the activity.
- Participation in the lab/practical/field/simulation activities may be denied to students who do not abide by these, and other conditions which may be specified by the Subject Coordinator.
- Never use any equipment or attempt any experiment without checking the safety implications with your laboratory supervisor or experienced delegated laboratory worker.
- Undergraduate students are not permitted to work after hours unless there is appropriate approval and supervision.

EMBEDDED Work Integrated Learning

This subject contains elements of 'Embedded WIL'. Students in this subject will experience activities that relate to or simulate professional practice as part of their learning.

Additional Subject Details

This subject provides an in-depth exploration of Indigenous research methodologies. Drawing on the expanding scholarship by Indigenous people globally, the subject will explore the underlying principles, philosophies, methods and ethical protocols for undertaking research that privileges Indigenous knowledges, voices and experiences. This subject will equip students with the tools and resources needed to embark on a research project informed by critical Indigenous perspectives. Indigenous research methodologies are underlined by values and practices that are consistent with the beliefs and values of Indigenous people and have clear and obvious benefits for Indigenous health and wellbeing.

Mode of Delivery

- Weekly online lectures for each topic will be available at the beginning of each week for you to download or view online.
- Background readings, videos and other resources will support and expand your individual learning about each of the topics.
- Individual learning activities provide interactive ways to assist your learning each week
- An optional online yarn via Zoom meeting will be scheduled at an agreed time for students to meet and yarn.
- A class Yarning Board is for you to engage online with your lecturers and other students, to clarify issues, make observations and ask questions.
- Workshops will be scheduled at agreed times throughout the session. This is where we come together to discuss specific texts to support you to complete your assessment items.

Major Text(s)

Refer to course Moodle page for a list of essential readings

If there is a textbook available for purchase, you can find the details at University Bookshop

Lecture Recording

The University of Wollongong supports the recording of UOW educational content as a supplemental study tool, to provide students with equity of access, and as a technology-enriched learning strategy to enhance the student experience.

If you make your own recording of a lecture, class, seminar, workshop or any other educational session provided as part of your course of study you can only do so with the explicit permission of the lecturer and those people who are also being recorded.

You may only use educational content recorded through the delivery of subject or course content, whether they are your own or recorded by the university, for your own educational purposes. Recordings cannot be altered, shared or published on another platform, without permission of the University, and to do so may contravene the University's Copyright Policy, Privacy Policy, Intellectual Property Policy, IT Acceptable Use Policy and Student Conduct Rules. Unauthorised sharing of recordings may also involve a breach of law under the Copyright Act 1969.

Most lectures in this subject will be recorded, when they are scheduled in venues that are equipped with lecture recording technology, and made available via the subject Moodle site within 48 hours.

Your Privacy - Lecture Recording

In accordance with the Student Privacy & Disclosure Statement, when undertaking our normal teaching and learning activities, the University may collect your personal information. This collection may occur incidentally during the recording of lectures in equipped venues (i.e. when your identity can be ascertained by your image, voice or opinion), or via the delivery of online content therefore the University further advises students that:

- Lecture recordings are made available to students, university staff, and affiliates, securely on the university's IT Platforms and via the subject Moodle eLearning site;
- Recordings are made available only for the purpose for which they were recorded, for example, as a supplemental study tool or to support equity and access to educational resources;
- Recordings are stored securely for up to four years

If you have any concerns about the use or accuracy of your personal information collected in a lecture recording, you may approach your Subject Coordinator to discuss your particular circumstances.

The University is committed to ensuring your privacy is protected. If you have a concern about how your personal information is being used or managed please refer to the University's Privacy Policy or consult our Privacy webpage <https://www.uow.edu.au/privacy/>

Recent Improvements to Subject

The Faculty of Science, Medicine and Health is committed to continual improvement in teaching and learning. In assessing teaching and learning practices in a subject, the Faculty takes into consideration student feedback from many sources. These sources include direct student feedback to tutors and lecturers, feedback through Science, Medicine and Health Central, responses to the Subject and Course Evaluation Surveys. These important student responses are used to make ongoing changes to subjects and courses. This information is also used to inform systemic comprehensive reviews of subjects and courses.

Extraordinary Changes to the Subject Outline

In extraordinary circumstances the provisions stipulated in this Subject Outline may require amendment after the Subject Outline has been distributed. All students enrolled in the subject must be notified and have the opportunity to provide feedback in relation to the amendment, where practicable, prior to the amendment being finalised.

Learning Analytics

Learning Analytics data (such as student engagement with Moodle, access to recorded lectures, University Library usage, task marks, and use of SOLS) may be used by the Subject Coordinator and your faculty's Head of Students to assist in analysing student engagement, and to identify and recommend support to students who may be at risk of failure. If you have questions about the kinds of data the University uses, how we collect it, and how we protect your privacy in the use of this data, please refer to <https://www.uow.edu.au/about/privacy/index.html>

Section B: Assessment

Assessment Summary

Assessment Item	Form of Assessment	%
Assessment 1	Presentation	30%
Assessment 2	Assignment	30%
Assessment 3	Assignment	40%
	TOTAL MARKS	100%

Please note: Copies of student work may be retained by the University in order to facilitate quality assurance of assessment processes.

A formative assessment activity (with written or verbal feedback) will be conducted before census date - please see UOW Key Dates.

Assessment 1: Presentation - Student presentations and written summary

Marking Criteria	The marking criteria will be made available on your eLearning site by week 1 of session.
Length	20 min presentation and 250 word written review.
Weighting	30%
Assessment Due	04 Apr 2024 (Thursday in Session Week 6) Final submission time: 12:00am
Type of Collaboration	Individual assessment and group work
Style and format	Oral presentation
Assessment submission	Online via Moodle This assessment has been set up to be checked by Turnitin, a tool which helps you check whether you have referenced correctly. You can submit your assessment task to Turnitin prior to the due date and Turnitin will give you an originality report. You may then make any changes that may be required and resubmit your final version by the due date.
Assessment return	Assessment marks and feedback will be returned within 3 weeks of submission.
Detailed information	For this assessment, you will be required to complete two activities, participation in a group presentation and submission of an Individual written critique. Group Presentation. During the first workshop you will be randomly assigned to a group and given then name of a journal article. Your task as a group is to critically analyse the approach to the research described in the article. As a group you can decide how to structure the presentation, being mindful that each person should have equal amount of time to present. In your presentation, you will need to address the following questions: 1. How has the approach to research in your paper been shaped and influenced by the authors' cultural identity, personal history and ethical stance?

	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 2. How has the researcher’s background influenced the choice of methods? 3. What are the conclusions or lessons learnt from reading these experiential accounts? Following the presentation, you will then be expected to address any questions from you tutor or classmates about the paper. Individual written critique For this part of the assessment, you will be required to submit an individually composed critique outlining the strengths and weaknesses of the journal article you were assigned. Your written piece will need to be APA7 styled and referenced and include your name, student number and final word count.

Assessment 2: Assignment - Ethics Assignment

Marking Criteria	The marking criteria will be made available on your eLearning site by week 1 of session.
Length	1500 words
Weighting	30%
Assessment Due	05 May 2024 (Sunday in Session Week 9) Final submission time: 12:00am
Type of Collaboration	Individual assessment
Style and format	Completion of Training Certificate and Written reflection
Assessment submission	Online via Moodle This assessment has been set up to be checked by Turnitin, a tool which helps you check whether you have referenced correctly. You can submit your assessment task to Turnitin prior to the due date and Turnitin will give you an originality report. You may then make any changes that may be required and resubmit your final version by the due date.
Assessment return	Assessment marks and feedback will be returned within 3 weeks of submission.
Detailed information	For this assessment, you will be required to complete two activities, the completion of an online ethics research training certificate and submission of an individual written reflection based on only the Indigenous component of the training you completed. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Ethics research training. To access the ethics training, you will need to use the link provided on Moodle and work your way through the online training package. A video has been created to show you how to navigate your way through the site and find the relevant sections you need. The video is available on Moodle. You will need to allocate a few hours to completing this training. Individual written reflection on the Indigenous component of the training For this part of the assessment, you will be required to submit a 1500-word written reflection describing your experience while undertaking the training. You will be expected to describe your thoughts and feelings in response to the topics, describe what you think works well stating reasons why and

	reflect on areas that you feel could be improved stating suggestions for how this improvement can be made. Your written piece will need to be APA7 styled and referenced and include your name, student number and final word count.

Assessment 3: Assignment - Written assignment

Marking Criteria	The marking criteria will be made available on your eLearning site by week 1 of session.
Length	3500 words
Weighting	40%
Assessment Due	09 Jun 2024 (Sunday in Study Recess Week 1) Final submission time: 12:00am
Type of Collaboration	Individual assessment
Style and format	Written assignment. APA referencing.
Assessment submission	Online via Moodle This assessment has been set up to be checked by Turnitin, a tool which helps you check whether you have referenced correctly. You can submit your assessment task to Turnitin prior to the due date and Turnitin will give you an originality report. You may then make any changes that may be required and resubmit your final version by the due date.
Assessment return	Within 15 days of submission date
Detailed information	For this assessment you will be required to complete a 3500 word literature review on an agreed topic. For the MIH students, ideally this would be a topic that would lead into your major or minor project. You will need to choose a topic of your own which relates to the discipline of Indigenous health and wellbeing and Indigenous research methodology. You will then be required create a research question based on this topic. You will then need to find at least 10 reference that you can critically analyse and construct a critical summary of. Your summary needs to include an evaluation of the methods and findings and provide recommendations for future research that needs to be undertaken to improve or further understand your research question. Students can email their topic through to their tutor or meet individually with tutor to agree on a topic. Your written piece will need to be APA7 styled and referenced and include your name, student number and final word count.

Additional Assessment Information

Students will complete a non-graded formative assessment that will be due end of week 3.

Minimum Requirements to Pass this Subject

Minimum Student Attendance and Participation

Students should note that UOW equates 1 credit point to around 1.5 - 2 hours of study per week, including lectures and tutorials/workshops/practicals, self-directed study and work on assessment tasks. For example, in a 6 credit point subject requires that students commit about 9 - 12 hours study a week, including attendance at lectures and tutorials.

Student attendance supports learning and achievement and is strongly encouraged in all classes. As a minimum requirement of this subject, students must attend at least 80% of tutorial classes whether delivered online or face to face. Attendance will be recorded and where classes are scheduled online, any technical issues should be reported to the subject coordinator within 24 hours of the class. If attendance is affected due to compassionate, compelling, or extenuating circumstances an academic consideration application should be lodged via SOLS and supporting documentation, for example a Medical Certificate, presented to Student Central as soon as practical. For further details about applying for academic consideration visit the Student Central webpage: <http://www.uow.edu.au/student/central/academicconsideration/index.htm>

To receive a clear pass in this subject a total mark of 50% or more must be achieved. In addition, failure to meet any of the minimum performance requirements is grounds for awarding a Technical Fail (TF) in the subject, even where total marks accumulated are greater than 50%.

The minimum performance requirements for this subject are:

- pass all assessment tasks
- meet the minimum attendance and participation requirements

UOW Grade Descriptors

The UOW Grade Descriptors are general statements that communicate what our grades represent, in terms of standards of performance, and provide a frame of reference to ensure that assessment practice across the University is appropriate, consistent and fair. Grade Descriptors are expressed in general terms so that they are applicable to a broad range of disciplines. Grade Descriptors are available here

<https://www.uow.edu.au/student/exams/results/>. For more information on the UOW grade descriptors refer to the Teaching and Assessment: Assessment and Feedback Policy: <https://documents.uow.edu.au/about/policy/alphalisting/UOW222910.html>

Submission, Retention and Collection of Written Assessment

Assessed work must be handed in by the date and time listed under each assessment task. All assessment tasks must represent the enrolled student's own ORIGINAL work and must not have been previously submitted for assessment in any formal course of study.

Extensions

Students requesting extensions of time to submit an assessment task, deferred exam, alternative form of assessment or exemption of a compulsory attendance requirement must apply online via SOLS and provide documentary evidence within three working days of the assessable item's due date for their request to be considered. For information on the Policy, eligibility and how to apply see:
<https://www.uow.edu.au/student/admin/academic-consideration/>

Late Submission Penalty

Late submissions will receive a penalty of 5% per day (or part thereof) of the total possible marks for the assessment task for up to ten (10) days after the due date and time for submission (including weekends, and public holidays), or, where an extension has been granted, for up to ten (10) days after the nominated extension deadline. For the purposes of this penalty a weekend (Saturday and Sunday) will be regarded as two days.

No marks will be awarded for work submitted:

- more than ten (10) days after the due date, or
- after the assessment has been returned to the students; whichever is applicable.

In such an instance, a mark of zero and a result of Fail for the task will be applied.

Note: Assessments must still be submitted to meet minimum performance requirements even though no mark is to be awarded.

Quiz Completion

Where there is a quiz component, any student who has not attempted and submitted a quiz within the specified timeframe will receive 0 (zero) marks for this assessment type. The quiz will not be reopened, and no alternative assessment will be set without extenuating circumstances and an approved academic consideration application. Late penalties do not apply to quizzes. If a student attempts a quiz but for technical issues is not able to submit the quiz, students must show evidence and apply for an academic consideration to sit a supplementary quiz.

Collection

Students will be notified when they can collect or view their marked assessment. In accordance with University Policy marked assessments will usually only be held for 21 days after the declaration of marks for that assessment.

Retention

The university may retain copies of student work in order to facilitate quality assurance of assessment processes, in support of the continuous improvement of assessment design, assessment marking and for the review of the subject. The University retains records of students' academic work in accordance with the University Records Management Policy and the State Records Act 1988 and uses these records in accordance with the University Privacy Policy and the Privacy and Personal Information Protection Act 1998.

Scaling

Marks awarded for any assessment task or part of any assessment task, including an examination may be subject to scaling at the end of the session. Marks will be scaled only when unpredicted circumstances occur and in order to ensure fairness of marking across groups of students. The method of scaling will depend on the type of scaling required by the circumstances. When scaling is deemed necessary, it will follow a detailed consideration by the Unit Assessment Committee and/or the Faculty Assessment Committee of the marks of the group of students concerned. Scaling will not affect any individual student's rank order within their cohort. For more information please refer to Standards for the Finalisation of Student Results Schedule 1: Scaling Guidelines <https://www.uow.edu.au/about/policy/UOW039331.html> for details.

Supplementary Assessment

Supplementary assessment may be offered to students whose performance in this subject is close to that required to pass the subject, and are otherwise identified as meriting an offer of a supplementary assessment. The Subject Coordinator will determine the precise form of supplementary assessment at the time the offer of a supplementary is made. In some circumstances you may be offered a supplementary exam. For more information about Supplementary Exams refer to: <http://www.uow.edu.au/student/exams/aboutsupp/index.html>

Review and Appeal of Academic Decisions

A student may request an explanation of a mark for an assessment task or a final grade for a subject consistent with the student's right to appropriate and useful feedback on their performance in an assessment task. A student may also seek further explanation for other academic decisions such as Academic Consideration, Supplementary Assessment or Credit for Prior Learning. If a student is not satisfied with the explanation, or have further concerns, they may have grounds for a formal review. For further information refer to <https://documents.uow.edu.au/about/policy/students/UOW189967.html>

Assessment Quality Cycle

The UOW Assessment Quality Cycle provides a level of assurance that assessment practices across the University are appropriate, consistent and fair. Quality assurance activities are undertaken to support the continuous improvement of assessment and promote good practices in relation to assessment design, marking and review of the subject prior to subsequent delivery.

Academic Integrity

The University's Academic Integrity Policy, faculty handbook and subject guides clearly set out the University's expectation that students submit only their own original work for assessment and avoid plagiarising the work of others or cheating. Re-using any of your own work (either in part or in full) which you have submitted previously for assessment is not permitted without appropriate acknowledgement. Plagiarism can be detected and has led to students being expelled from the University.

The use by students of any website that provides access to essays or other assessment items (sometimes marketed as 'resources'), is extremely unwise. Students who provide an assessment item (or provide access to an assessment item) to others, either directly or indirectly (for example by uploading an assessment item to a website) are considered by the university to be intentionally or recklessly helping other students to cheat. Uploading an assessment task, subject outline or other course materials without express permission of the University is considered academic misconduct and students place themselves at risk of being expelled from the University.

Students should visit the following University website and become familiar with the University's policy on plagiarism <https://www.uow.edu.au/about/policy/UOW058648.html>

Referencing

The Author-Date (Harvard) referencing system should, unless otherwise specified for a particular assessment (check Details of Assessment Tasks), be utilised. A summary of the Harvard system can be accessed on the Library website at: <http://uow.libguides.com/refcite>
