9:30-10:00am	Ice-breaker activity
10:00-10:25am	Morning Tea
10:30am – 12:15pm	Academic Activity 1 – Dr. Sophie Frazer will explore some of the most insistent themes of knowledge and/as tragedy in Mary Shelley's Frankenstein (1818), tracing the ways in which the novel stages a crisis of consciousness for both the unnamed Creature and his Promethean creator.
12:15-1:10pm	Lunch
1:15-3:00pm	Academic Activity 2 - Dr. Julian Lamb will introduce us to two tragic Shakespearian figures – Hamlet and Othello – both driven to madness by the search for certainty. Dr. Elena Walsh will then expand on this theme by discussing the work of Rene Descartes, a philosophical figure famously tormented by his own doubts, who found certainty in his own experience of being a thinking subject.
